WARNING: Be sure your pistol is unloaded, with magazine removed, and pistol action locked open, before proceeding.

Remove the Rear Locking Assembly by depressing on the Rear Locking Plate detent pin located on the top of the ACP while sliding the Rear Locking Assembly off the back.

Remove the Polymer Adapter Clamp from the front of the ACP by pulling down on the adapter clamp retaining pin and pushing rearward on the Adapter Clamp through the front of the ACP, just below the barrel opening.
Slide the Front Polymer Adapter Clamp onto the accessory rail of the pistol.

The Adapter Clamp Assembly should be seated as close to the front of the trigger guard as possible while still maintaining a positive lock with the rail stop. Make sure the holes in the Polymer Adapter Clamp line up with the rail slots on the pistol. Insert the “L” shaped Adapter Rail Lock to guarantee placement. Adapter Rail Lock should only be inserted from the right side.

Hold the ACP by the top rail and insert the pistol and Adapter Clamp Assembly into the corresponding rails located inside the front of the ACP.

Push the pistol as far forward as possible and slide the Adapter Clamp Assembly retaining pin back into the adapter.
Replace the Rear Locking Assembly by sliding it back onto the rear of the ACP. Insure you have the correct Rear Polymer Adapter Clamp installed for your pistol, as shown in the photo.

Make sure the Rear Polymer Adapter Clamp seats fully onto the protrusion on the top of the back-strap of the pistol.

Adjust the Rear Polymer Adapter Clamp to fit the particular depth of the back-strap by turning the recessed Allen bolt on the back plate of the Rear Locking Assembly.
IMPORTANT:
If you encounter an issue when attempting to zero your optic/ sights installed on the ACP, please use the included shim as described below to rectify the issue.

1. Place the shim on the rear-most M1913 rail section under your optic/ rear sight.

2. Attach optic/sight to the rail in the normal fashion.

3. Re-zero ACP with optic/sight.

With the pistol pointed in a safe direction, pull rearward on the ACP Charging Handle and then let it go allowing the pistol to go fully into battery.

LOADING AND FIRING

Treat the ACP as any other firearm – keep the ACP pointed in a safe direction then insert a loaded magazine.

Pull rearward on the ACP charging handle and release. The pistol is ready to fire.
DISASSEMBLY

WARNING: Remove the magazine from your pistol and make sure the pistol is unloaded by performing a physical and visual inspection before proceeding.

Remove the Rear Locking Assembly by depressing the Rear Locking Plate detent pin on the top of the ACP, while sliding the Rear Locking Assembly to the rear.

Remove the Front Universal Polymer Adapter Clamp and Pistol Assembly from the front of the ACP by pulling down on the Adapter Clamp Retaining Pin.

Slide the pistol to the rear.

Remove the Polymer Adapter Clamp from the accessory rail of your pistol.
INSTALLATION AND REMOVAL TIPS

WARNING: Remove the magazine from your pistol and make sure the pistol is unloaded by performing a physical and visual inspection before proceeding.

The Front Universal Adapter Clamp is designed to fit snugly on the pistol. This fit greatly aids in repeatable accuracy when mounted in the ACP. When first mounting to the pistol, these tips may make installation & removal easier:

1. Guide the Adapter Clamp grooves onto the pistol rail.
2. Using a plastic or rubber mallet, tap the Adapter Clamp into place.
3. For removal, use a plastic or rubber mallet to tap the Adapter Clamp off of the rail.

* Note: Applying grease/lube to the inner and outer rail interface of the clamp will aid installation and removal.
